VITAMIN

01

On May 21, Zhejiang Garden Biopharmaceutical Co., Ltd. announced via an interactive platform that its annual 6,000-ton Vitamin A powder project has officially entered production. Meanwhile, the biotin and VB6 projects are currently undergoing final inspection.

AMINO ACID

02

Methionine: The Chinese solid methionine market remains stable, though demand for orders is weak, with manufacturers focusing on shipments. Liquid methionine is priced at USD 2.09-2.21/KG, but trade market activity remains sluggish. Terminal demand is subdued, with solid methionine trading at approximately USD 2.7/KG. Transaction volumes are low, and the prices are expected to remain steady or see minor adjustments. The progress of NHU's liquid methionine project is a key factor to watch.

API

03

Oxytetracycline Hydrochloride: Persistent shortages of upstream raw materials have led to tight delivery schedules for mainstream manufacturers. Most factories have paused quotations ahead of the upcoming API exhibition. Current market transaction prices range between USD 10.94-11.8, and prices are expected to remain firm in the short term. Future trends will depend on the supply of oxytetracycline raw materials, factory production progress, and market demand. A slight price increase is anticipated following the exhibition.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Sucralose: Market conditions have influenced the current transaction price for sucralose, which stands at around USD 23.35-23.97/KG. Mainstream manufacturers are maintaining normal order delivery schedules, and a potential price increase in the near future cannot be ruled out.
